

Year Six Home Learning Pack Spring Three Part 5

Spellings for you to practice in this pack.

Confidently	Silently
Adorable	Magnificent
Reasonable	Ancient
Innocent	Patiently
dependent	frequent

After you have done you Look, Cover, Write, Check, take each word and write them into a sentence. Score yourself for each sentence. Send me your final sentences. The challenge this week is score at least 25 points!

1 mark = simple sentence correctly demarcated with a Capital Letter and end punctuation.

i.e. I talked to the class confidently.

2 marks = use of either subordinating or coordinating conjunction (FANBOYS) ! ? or s "Speech written correctly!"

I talked to the class confidently even though I was really nervous inside.

3 Marks = Fronted adverbial phrase, correctly punctuated, the use of either a colon or semi colon, a ported sentence, or an embedded clause.

After the bell rang, I talked to the class (the year sixes) confidently even though I was really nervous.

Even though I was really nervous, I spoke to the class confidently.

I spoke to the class confidently; they all listened well.

Dots and dashes

Dot and dash the graphemes in the words.
Write the number of sounds.

absent	6	confident		silent
frequent		intelligent		decent
innocent		patient		urgent
magnificent		different		efficient

Tip: The word patient can be a noun that means someone who is ill and being looked after, e.g. The patient was quite ill.
Or it can be an adjective that means able to wait without getting angry or bored, e.g. My friend is more patient than I am.

Word changers

Complete the table. (The adverb is the adjective with the suffix -ly.)

adjective	adverb
	violently
innocent
	obediently
confident silently
frequent efficiently
urgent differently
efficient

Dots and dashes

Dot and dash the graphemes in the words.
Write the number of sounds.

absent	6	confident		silent
frequent		intelligent		decent
innocent		patient		urgent
magnificent		different		efficient

Tip: The word patient can be a noun that means someone who is ill and being looked after, e.g. The patient was quite ill.
Or it can be an adjective that means able to wait without getting angry or bored, e.g. My friend is more patient than I am.

Word changers

Complete the table. (The adverb is the adjective with the suffix -ly.)

adjective	adverb
	violently
innocent
	obediently
confident
	silently
frequent
	efficiently
urgent
	differently
patient

Choose the right word

Complete the sentences using the correct word from each word family.

confidently confident confidence innocently innocent innocence frequent frequently silently silent

- 1 If you speak _____, people are more likely to listen.
- 2 I am _____ that we will win tomorrow.
- 3 My sister smiled at Dad _____
but I knew she had eaten all the cake.
- 4 I was glad that he was proven to be _____ after all.
- 5 That robin is a _____ visitor in our garden.
- 6 We go swimming quite _____.
- 7 The head teacher asked who had done it. Everyone was _____.
- 8 The panther crept _____
through the forest.

Orange words

Some Orange words have double letters in them.

- 1 Take turns to read the words. Underline the double letters. Agree with your partner which words have two sets of double letters in them.

embarrass excellent exaggerate especially interrupt

- 2 Complete each definition and example sentence using the correct word from the box above.

a _____ pretend something is greater than it really is Does your mum _____ when she says how messy your room is?

b _____ disturb someone when they are working or speaking

Please don't _____ me when I'm talking

c _____ extremely good

The goalkeeper was _____!

d _____ more than anything or anyone else

I love art and crafts, _____ making things out of clay.

e _____ make someone feel foolish or silly

Dad got up and danced, even though he knew it would _____ us

Tip: Say to yourself, "I went really red and felt so silly!" to help you remember the double r and the double s in embarrass.

Spelling zone

1 Take turns to read the information and the words.

These nouns end in -ence. They are usually pronounced with -ence 'crushed' so it sounds like uns.

silence absence magnificence intelligence obedience dependence innocence patience

2 Complete each sentence using the correct word from the box above.

- There was total _____ in the empty street.
- You'll need a lot of _____ to untie that knot!
- I was astonished that she had jewels of such _____.
- They searched for the money when they noticed its _____.

Some nouns end in -ency instead of -ence.

frequency decency agency

The best way to remember whether the noun ends in -ency or -ence is to read and practise writing the words lots of times.

Dots and dashes

Dot and dash the graphemes in the words.
Write the number of sounds.

patience	6
silence
violence
obedience

innocence confidence intelligence independence

difference
absence
competence
evidence

Word changers

Complete the table.

adjective (ending in -ent)	noun (ending in -ence)
silent	silence
	obedience
intelligent evidence confident
	absence
innocent
	violence
patient
	difference

Choose the right word

Complete the sentences using the correct word from each word family.

patient patience violent violence different difference differences silent silence

- 1 You showed great _____ in that long queue.
- 2 Please be _____ and do not interrupt while I am speaking.
- 3 I believe that _____ rarely solves problems.
- 4 Your _____ behaviour is unacceptable.
- 5 I couldn't tell the _____ between the brands of cornflakes.
- 6 Megan chose a _____ chocolate bar to the one I chose.
- 7 There were lots of _____ between my holiday and Asif's, though we both had a great time.
- 8 The _____ in the old house was spooky.
- 9 When the teacher walked in, looking angry, everyone fell _____.

